Route to Resilience

Dear Parents / Carers,

Having introduced our Route to Resilience work last year the children are getting really good at recognising when their peers have demonstrated particular characters. Now it's your turn.

A few parents have let us know when their child has worked hard to develop one or more of our R2R characters so we would like to extend an invite to all of you. If your child has worked hard to demonstrate creativity, perseverance, team work, independence, courage etc, we would love to hear about it. It can be about anything, work they have been doing for school, hobbies, them just recognising the characters that they need to work on.

If (at any point during the year) you feel your child has developed a R2R character, simply complete the form below. Copies will be available from the office.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you in advance.
